WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.-Rear Admiral Coghlan, commander of the Caribbean squadron, cables the Navy Department, osition has been transmittted to the House from Colon, under date of Nov. 21, that Gen. Before his departure he informed Admiral Coghlan that the Panama government had cabled Dr. Amador to await his (Reyes) arrival. Admiral Coghlan further states that General Reyes expects to make amicable relations with the special commissioners from Panama now in Washington.

The Navy Department also has received cablegram from Rear Admiral Glass, commander in chief of the Pacific squadron from Panama, under date of the 21st, stating that the conference of General Reves and the authorities of Panama was without result, and that General Reyes had sailed for the United States. It is believed here that, aside from the Colombian foreign debt, General Reyes's main purpose is to advance the suggestion that the capital of Colombia be transferred to the city of Panama. The opinion in official circles here is that, though flattering, the proposition will be rejected by the Panama commissioners if for no other reason than because, through sheer weight of numbers, the Colombians soon would control the administration of the reunited republic and the situation as to Panama would be as it was before the revolution and separation. Mr. Beaupre's status remains unchanged so far as the officials here know and, notwithstanding the menacing tone of the notes addressed to him by the Colombian minister for foreign affairs as set out in the press dispatches from Bogota, the State Departbreach in the relations between the United States and Colombia. The fact that the Colombian legation here is still open for business, under instructions from Bogota, is confirmatory evidence of the fact that there has been no rupture of relations. Mr. Beaupre has informed the minister for foreign affairs that the United States has recognized Panama and has extended the good offices of our government to patch up peace. The Colombian answer to this last proposition has not yet been received.

Garrett, Ind., Girl and the Sum of $2,100 Are Involved-Child Abducted from Virginia.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. CLEVELAND, Nov. 23 .- Caddie B. Suter, an Indiana girl, is the bone of a legal contention here in the United States Court, in which three guardians are fighting for what each thinks is his right.

When Miss Suter was a girl in short dresses her father, Christian C. Suter, a B. & O. engineer, died on Christmas day, 1892. He had been taken from Garrett, Ind., to the farm of his brother in Rockingham, Va. Realizing that the end was near, he intrusted his child to her uncle. In addiwith the keeping of $2,000 in life insurance that would go to the child after his death. On Feb. 13, 1894, it is alleged, W. H. Bowers, prosecuting attorney of Richland county, Ohio, went to Virginia to gain possession of the child. It is alleged that he drove to the schoolhouse where she was, called her outside and told her that he wanted her to go with him back to Garrett. The teacher objected and with the attorney and the little girl they went to the home of her uncle. The uncle wanted legal advice before allowing the girl to go so far away from home. He told the attorney to take the child in the carriage and that he would follow. The petition says that Bowers had a fast roadster and that the old man was soon distanced. When harrisonburg, the county seat, was reached, the uncle found the attorney and the child had taken a fresh team and had headed for Newmarket station to board a train. He had a warrant issued charging Bowers with abduction. When this was brought to trial the chine is one of the "plunger" patterns and Richland county lawyer was discharged.
